Never Give Up— The Survivor Way
Speaker: Holly Hoffman
As we take time to reflect on what our credit union network accomplished last year and what we have on the horizon, we are struck by how our “People Helping People” philosophy remains at the core of everything we do. This principle has guided credit unions since their inception and has never lost its importance over time. In fact, we would argue we are doing more now to serve our members and the communities where we operate than ever before. Credit unions are truly moving Maine forward—leading through innovation, collaboration, and a deep commitment to promoting positive change.

This commitment is most clearly evidenced by Maine’s credit unions’ work toward improving the lives of the state’s underserved and at-risk communities. Our Campaign for Ending Hunger had a phenomenal 2018 and continues to break fundraising records. With 100% of our credit unions participating in this campaign, we raised $792,000 and supported 285 local organizations. Credit unions also committed countless hours through volunteer and community involvement activities. But while our contribution of time, resources, and dollars helps significantly in the fight to combat hunger in our state, clearly there is much more to do. Credit unions understand this because we see it every day in the communities we serve. It’s what drives our dedication to this cause.

Our work to improve the financial lives of Maine residents and the communities in which they live, of course, includes several other initiatives as well. Promoting financial literacy and raising awareness about secure and affordable financial services has been a central focus for many years and an area in which our credit union network continues to lead by example. During the 2017/18 school year, a record-setting 8,774 students participated in more than 50 Financial Fitness Fairs throughout the state. In addition to the traditional high school fairs, more than 100 inmates at the Maine Correctional Center took part in the financial literacy program. If the first few weeks of spring are any indication of what we’ll accomplish in 2019, we’ll reach even more individuals this year! We also continue to support Senior$afe and its efforts to prevent elder financial abuse.

Financial literacy includes awareness of sound financial services. Therefore, we remain committed to educating consumers that Maine’s credit unions uphold the highest standards when it comes to ensuring privacy and safety of member data. In 2019, we will be actively engaging with state and local chambers, civic groups, and other organizations to educate their constituents about the availability of safe and affordable financial services. As an example, we recently initiated an educational partnership with ProsperityME, an organization that helps newly arrived immigrants navigate the U.S. financial system and educates these new Mainers about innovative, secure, and reliable financial services. We undertake these efforts because helping individuals make better, more informed financial decisions and raising awareness of our services are key components to improving the Maine economy and growing credit union membership.

Promoting positive change in Maine also means attracting, building, and retaining a resilient and skilled workforce. As one of the largest employers in the state, credit unions must play a meaningful role in this effort to ensure we have qualified employees to fill positions and serve our members for years to come. This will be accomplished in part by developing strong relationships with continuing and higher education institutions as well as other organizations committed to promoting the importance of secondary education and the availability of educational opportunities and workforce training in Maine. We also should make supporting new and emerging businesses and industries a priority. Their success will help make our state stronger, benefiting our credit unions and our members in the long-run.

The success of Maine’s credit unions also depends heavily on the League’s advocacy initiatives in Maine and Washington, D.C. As we know, if credit unions aren’t at the table, we’re on the table, and our robust policy agenda requires us to remain engaged and politically active at both the state and federal level. In 2018, the League monitored 27 bills, taking a position on and provided testimony for 4 bills, and achieving a 94% success rate.

This advocacy work is greatly assisted by your contributions to CULAC. In 2018, we surpassed our fundraising goal and raised nearly $107,000 to support credit union-friendly candidates running for state and federal offices. During this last election cycle, we also were busy meeting with candidates, hosting events, issuing endorsements, and supporting Get Out the Vote efforts. While 2019 is not an election year, it is still important to support CULAC in the off-cycle to enhance our position in 2020.

We would like to thank all of you for everything you do to support our industry. Our membership is growing and our network is strong in Maine and nationwide. We added over 16,000 new members in Maine in 2018 alone, as Mainers are more frequently turning to credit unions and becoming better engaged.

All of this success is due to your collaborative work through participation in League Committees, Councils, Networks, and Chapters. Nearly 150 participants from 45 credit unions contributed their time, experience, and knowledge to one of the League’s nine Committees. Nationally, Maine was represented on four CUNA committees. Working together through these important alliances makes our network more efficient and better connected.

Our spirit of collaboration ensures credit unions are in the right place at the right time with the right solutions for our members, our local communities, and our state. The value of credit union membership goes beyond a deposit account or an auto loan—it’s being part of a movement that enables Mainers to own their moments, build up their communities, and make Maine a desirable place to live, work, and thrive. The credit union difference is special and is why so many consumers are turning to us to be their financial partner.

Working to improve the state’s underserved communities, educating Mainers on financial literacy, raising awareness of our secure and affordable financial services, developing and retaining a strong and skilled workforce, advocating on behalf of the credit union movement—all of these efforts are designed to improve the financial lives of our state’s residents. Together, we are truly moving Maine forward.

Respectfully submitted,

2019 SPEAKERS

Opening Session

DISRUPTIVE THINKING: HOW TO SPARK TRANSFORMATION IN YOUR BUSINESS

Successful companies operating in mature industries that embrace incremental change find themselves on a path that gets narrower and narrower. Eventually, they reach the end of the path, and by then, their customers have forsaken them for a new offering that nobody saw coming. In cases where companies do take disruptive risks, it’s often because they’re backed into a corner and there’s no other choice. But companies that try to differentiate themselves by focusing on incremental innovation instead of game-changing, disruptive innovation will differentiate themselves right out of business. They cannot afford to wait until they get backed into a corner. Companies need to be consistently making bold moves, even at the very peak of their success. It is an essential skill for anyone in business, from a small start-up to a global corporation, with the desire to transform organizational processes and behaviors, and ask, “Why hadn’t we ever thought about our business and industry this way before?”

Speaker: Luke Williams

Luke Williams is one of the world’s leading business thinkers on innovation strategy. He has worked with leading companies across the globe and is a dynamic and sought-after management speaker, having lectured in 21 countries and addressed the United Nations General Assembly and the World Innovation Forum. Luke is Professor of Innovation at NYU Stern School of Business; Founder and Executive Director of the W.R. Berkley Innovation Labs; and a Fellow at Frog Design, one of the world’s most influential product strategy and design firms. He is the inventor of 30+ U.S. patents and has designed more than 100 products in industries ranging from transportation to finance, and healthcare to consumer electronics. His views are regularly featured in media ranging from Bloomberg BusinessWeek and Fast Company to The Wall Street Journal and The Economist. He is the author of the international bestseller, Disrupt: Think the Unthinkable to Spark Transformation in Your Business.

Closing Session

NEVER GIVE UP—THE SURVIVOR WAY

Holly Hoffman was the last remaining member of the Espada Tribe and the last woman standing on Season 21 of CBS’ hit reality show Survivor Nicaragua. From this experience, and others throughout her life, Holly was inspired to speak around the country about what she learned about herself and surviving life’s challenges. Holly will share her belief that difficult times allow us to step out of our comfort zone and push ourselves above and beyond our own self-limitations. How we choose to overcome challenges is what makes us who we are, and our strength in times of difficulty proves our character and self-worth. Get a behind the scenes look at her Survivor experience and explore what true survival skills are in this inspirational closing session.

Speaker: Holly Hoffman

Born and raised in Eureka, South Dakota, Holly shares her message of positivity, determination and confidence with business leaders, teachers, and students across the nation. Now an accomplished motivational speaker and the author of Your Winner Within, Holly offers encouragement, optimism and a roadmap for self-discovery and enlightenment.
We wish to extend a special recognition to our valued business partners who have provided financial support for the 2019 convention. This significant funding is applied to all aspects of convention planning and enables us to provide a high quality event for Maine credit unions. Please share your appreciation with them.
